TO THE WEST! TO THE WEST!

Before making your arrangements to follow the advice of the "thousands who have already gone," it would be well to consider what has been done to make the journey to your "Homes in the West" as pleasant and free from danger as human skill and foresight can accomplish.

By consolidation and construction, a road has been put into operation on the shortest possible line from Nashville, Tenn., to St. Louis, "the future great City of the world." This line, the has, during the past year, earned an enviable reputation by its smooth track, prompt time, sure connections, and the magnificence of its passenger equipment. Its trains are made up of new and commodious day cars, provided with the celebrated Miller coupler and platform, and the Westinghouse air-brake.

It is possitively the only line running Pullman Palace Drawing-Room Sleepin Cars through without change from Nashville to St. Louis. No other line pretend to offer such advantages, either in distance, time, or equipment. Why, then, journey by circuitous routes? Do not be induced to purchase tickets to St. Louis or the West by any other line, remember that is the shortest, cheapest, quickest, best and only line under one management from Nashville to St. Louis, and is from 60 to 200 miles the shortest to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, California, Texas, and all western points. It is also the "Chicago Shortest Line," via Evansville.

You can secure the cheapest rates for yourselves and your movables on application, in person or by letter, to CHARLES McCABE, Southern Passenger Agent, near College street Depot, Nashville, Tenn., or to the undersigned.

MAGISTRATES BLANKS—A full line on hand, and for sale
feb 25 S G HALL

The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Tuesday, September 23d, 1873.

In another column appears a copy of a call now being circulated among the Doctors, which we publish by request. We know nothing about it, except that the call is very heartily endorsed by some of our leading physicians, which in itself is enough to cause the profession to read the call very carefully, and consider it favorably.

Now that the excitement is dying down in New York, we hope our banks will forego their overcautiousness, and help to lift off the pressure. Our products are about ready to move, and dealers must have money. We will suffer terribly here unless parties of known ability can get accommodations as they need them during the next thirty days.

The Raleigh News publishes the following in its editorial column:

The bank panic in New York and other Northern cities has not yet reached the South, but it will surely do so unless the Government shall intervene.

And again, in the same column, it says:

Unless the Government comes to the rescue of the banks, a general suspension is anticipated. This will produce universal depression in the money market, and every interest will feel the pressure.

From this we should judge that the News was in favor of Government interference. If this be so, it has changed its song materially since it supported Mr. Greeley. The Philosopher was down on this sort of a thing.

Waked Up.

Our friend, the Fayetteville Statesman, again makes its appearance, with O. H. Blocker as editor. We welcome brother Blocker into the treadmill, while we sympathize with him. Hereafter he will be an "ink slinger." Having got the printer's ink upon his hand, it will be difficult for him ever to keep away from it, but he will do a good work in his vicinity. We hope to notice a prosperous season on the part of the Statesman. We make the following extract from brother Blocker's salutatory:

"Without experience in the newspaper business, with little taste and less talent for writing, we beg indulgence of our patrons, and make an awkward bow. We shall devote our best energies to the paper, and while we have no hope of conducting it with that acknowledged ability which characterized the Statesman under its former talented editor, we do hope our friends will assist us in rendering it a sprightly and readable paper.

"Unflinchingly Republican, and devoted to the interest of the Great Union Republican Party, the Statesman will not be unmindful that others too have rights in their opinions when honestly formed. Our opponents will meet with due respect and courtesy so long as they will it.

"With good feeling for all, and with the hope that some good may be accomplished for the whole people, we hoist our bantling to the breeze."

The Panic.

The President was in New York Sunday, and held conferences with the Secretary of the Treasury and many leading capitalists of the country. The following is from the special dispatches to the Washington Republican:

* * * President Grant, who came up from Long Branch, was quartered at the Fifth Avenue, and was joined by Secretaries Richardson & Robeson this morning.

He spent the whole day in giving audience to the men prominent in the business and money interests of the city, and heard them all, from the stock speculators like Jay Gould, Henry Smith, Vanderbilt and Schell, to such eminent bankers and merchants as Vermilye, Drexel, Morton, Clews, Claflin and Morgan. All sorts of propositions were submitted, and it seemed impossible to secure a concert of action between bankers and merchants. The merchants seemed inclined to the opinion that the Government should not interfere, but let the thing work out itself; that it was merely the downfall of a pernicious system of gambling that had grown to be chronic with financial men, and the sooner it was broken up the better. Jay Gould was of the opinion that nothing could be done by Government interference. No matter what Secretary Richardson might do, he would wager to-morrow—should there be a general run on the banks—that every institution in the city would have to suspend. Commodore Vanderbilt thought differently. He urged the President to have the Government come to the immediate relief of the banks, and then in a few days everything would be on a safe and sound basis. The result was that the President ordered Secretary Richardson to have Assistant Treasurer Hillhouse begin tomorrow and buy bonds to the amount of forty million dollars. When this action of the President became known, a meeting of the bank presidents was held for the purpose of seeing if anything further could be done on their part to help stay the tide, but nothing was accomplished, and the opinion seemed conclusive that they could do nothing further than to accept the decision of the President and Secretary and sell their bonds, and rely on their action of yesterday in uniting for common protection. A meeting of presidents of savings banks was also held, and they resolved that rather than sacrifice their Government bonds by selling them to the Secretary of the Treasury at par, they would take advantage of the clause in their charters giving them thirty days in which to meet the demands of depositors. It is understood that Assistant Secretary Hillhouse interprets his instructions to allow banks to use a portion of their reserve, which will not necessitate the sacrifice of the bond securities.

The Washington Republican also publishes a special correspondance from New York, from which we make the following extracts:

THE PRODUCE AND COTTON EXCHANGE.

At the Produce and Cotton Exchanges no excitement was visible, a fact which proves that the influence of the crash is confined to speculators in railroad stocks and the class of moneyed men dependent upon or connected with them. The bursting of a few bubbles on Wall street does not materially interfere with the law of supply and demand, but when the bursting of those bubbles brings in its train the suspension of banks in which produce operators keep their accounts, the most serious crippling of the agricultural interests of the country may follow.

THE PURCHASE OF BONDS.

The interference by the Treasury Department in the purchase of bonds Saturday did not produce the anticipated result. It was expected here that the moral effect of the order directing Mr. Hillhouse to make the purchase would be to restore confidence; and when it became known that the Treasury balance showed a surplus of greenbacks of over $14.000,000 it was considered certain that the market would be eased.—The offers for sale were limited, and much below the amount anticipated. The reason for this is said to be an unwillingness to part with governments by holders at this time, and the further fact that most of the brokers who held governments had already pledged them for the wherewithal to meet their stock transactions. In other words, the surplus governments were tied up on Thursday and Friday, and consequently were not available on Saturday. The action of the Treasury Department was, therefore, too late to produce the desired effect.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE CLEARING-HOUSE ASSOCIATION.

The officers of the banks and clearing house association at their meeting yesterday afternoon unanimously resolved that until the 1st of November next any bank in the clearing house who shall issue to that bank certificates to the amount of 75 per cent. cash value of such assets, such certificates shall be accepted in the settlement of clearing-house differences in place of legal tender notes.

They further resolved to pool all their legal tender notes and make common cause against any attempt to break any of them.

The issue of these certificates will be carried to the extent of the full assets of the bank if necessary.

The practical effect of this issue will be to economize the use of legal-tender notes. These certificates taking their place is an expansion of the bank credits and facilities, but not of irredeemable paper.

The banks to which loan certificates may be issued will be charged in addition to seven per cent. interest, one-quarter of one per cent. to defray expenses consequent on the carrying out of this plan.

The bank presidents, at their meeting Saturday afternoon, passed a resolution to issue immedately ten millions in loan certificates.

The Flag of England

On the 12th of April 1606, the Union Jack—the flag that has waved in so many bloody and victorious battles by sea and shore—first made its appearance. From Rymer's "Fœdera," and the Annals of Sir James Balfour, Lord Lyon King of Arms, we learn that some differences having arisen between ships of the two countries at sea, his Majesty ordained that a new flag be adopted, with the crosses of St. Andrew and St. George interlaced, by placing the latter fimbriated on the blue flag of Scotland as the ground thereof. This flag all ships were to carry at their main-top; but English ships were to display St. George's red cross at their sterns, and the Scottish, the white saltire of S. Andrew. The Union Jack, however, was not adopted by the troops of either country till their Parliamentary union in 1707. In Munro's account of the expedition with Mackay's regiment in Denmark, he states that in 1626 the Scots in the Danish army persisted in carrying their national flag, and refused to place the Danish cross upon it.—[From British Battles on Land and Sea," by James Grant, for June.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

— The members of the Polaris expedition will sail from Liverpool for New York to-day.

— The Emperor Francis Joseph has appointed his guest, King Victor Emanuel, an honorary colonel of an Austrian regiment.

— A portion of the crew of the yacht Deerhound, captured by a Spanish cruiser after landing a cargo of arms for the Carlists, has been released and placed in charge of the British consul at Ferrol.

— Frederick William, elector of Hesse-Cassel, has formally recognized and consented to the annexation of his territory to Prussia, and renounced his right of property in revenues of the electorate, in compensation for which the Prussian Government has granted him an amnesty of two million thalers.

— At the session of the British association at Bradford, England, Captain Markham, of the British navy, who was on the Arctic when she received men rescued from the Polaris, gave detailed accounts of the voyage of Captain Hall, which he gathered from the members of the expedition. He said the Polaris occupied only five days in making the distance from Cape Shakleton northward to latitude 82 deg. 6 min. This was the nearest point to the North Pole ever reached by civilized man. The ice was soft all the way, and a stronger vessel could have attained much higher latitude. The London Observer closes an eulogy on the late Captain Hall as follows: "A rude wooden monument to an intrepid American, standing alone in the polar solitude, is at the same time a grand memorial trophy and challenge."

No day has yet been appointed, but as soon as practicable after the preliminaries are arranged, District Deputy Grand Master Andrews, accompanied by some of the brethren, will revive the Lodge, the number of which we could not ascertain.

Magistrates' Courts.

'Squire Moore disposed of the following:

John Anderson, charged with committing an assault and battery on the person of James Henderson, was required to pay $2 and cost.

James Henderson sued out a peace warrant against Jno. Anderson. After hearing the evidence the Court required Anderson to give a bond of $100 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court, and to keep the peace toward James Henderson and all good citizens.

A YOUNG FRIEND was invited to an oyster supper sometime since, and being rather partial to bivalves he took advantage of the invitation, and was one among the first to arrive at the house of his host. Evening parties and late suppers are always very enjoyable, and this one was by no means an exception to its many long-to-be-remembered predecessors. Wit and merriment ran high, and

"With genial joy to warm the soul,
Bright Helen mixed a mirth inspiring bowl."

Time flew rapidly away, and the old clock, the sentry of the hall for many years, tolled the hour of midnight. One by one the guests departed, giving their assurance to their host that they had spent a delightful evening. During the time of the leave-taking, our friend could have been seen paying his respects to the inspirer of wit and mirth, and with one longing look at the punch bowl he bade adieu. Meandering his way homeward, singing "Poor old Crobinson Rusoe," he arrived in front of his home, and commenced feeling all over the fence for the key-hole. Hitting his toe upon some obstruction, he fell against the door, and finally succeeded in getting to his room, but alas! he was so weak and tired he sank prostrate on the side of his couch to rest, forgetting to disrobe himself before he retired for the night. Upon awaking in the morning—for he was very thirsty—he found three of his acquaintances crouched up in the various corners of his room, sweetly locked in the arms of Morpheus. How they got there, and when they came in, is a mystery to our young friend and to his nocturnal visitors.

THE TOWN CRIER.

— Milder.

— Gold is $111¾.

— Showery to-day.

— Big scare wearing off.

— Four weeks more to Court.

— Encourage home industry.

— Pay your taxes, for time flies fast.

— Now is the time to prepare to sell many goods.

— When are we have a programme of our next Fair?

— Who steals our Daily Graphic?—We want it right now!

— Professor Tallichet resumes the French and German lessons on the 1st proximo. See advertisement.

— Sheriff Black is of and with the people, a farmer and a worker in all that pertains to the good of the people. They are causing him great trouble, however, by not paying their taxes. He must settle just the same with the State.

GREAT EASTERN MENAGERIE.—This comprehensive and elaborate establishment—pronounced one of the greatest combiations of caravan, museum, hippodrome, aquarium and circus on the road—with all its congenial and wondrous proportions, will visit our city on the 15th of October next. Of the excellence and perfect completeness of this grand organization, the press have been most lavish in their praise wherever it has been this season. The menagerie department is probably the most choice feature of this elegant show, excepting only the circus. So great is the display afforded for an appreciative public instruction that no less than twelve massive centre poles are required to exhibit it properly. The new and original idea of a double circus performance is not only felicitous and happy, but strikes the beholder as a decided innovation upon the old order of things. A double ring with a dual company performing two acts in as many rings at one time, is a certainly new era in the sawdust business. We look for a big turnout of our good people.

MAN DROWNED.—A colored deck hand on the steamer R. E. Lee, who answered to the name of Rufus, fell overboard and was drowned about sunset yesterday, while the boat was about one mile above Kelly's Cove. He was walking on the outer edge or guard, and was coming from the bow of the steamer, and while about midway of the boat it is supposed that he either stepped on the end of the gang plank, which tilted and precipitated him into the water, or that he tripped up and fell overboard. The engineer saw him fall, and gave the alarm. The steamer was stopped, and the small boat was soon lowered into the water, but before it could reach him he had sank the third and last time.—The unfortunate man at first swam very nicely, but became frightened, and lost all control of himself. The deck hands were all on the lower deck at the time of the accident, but strange to say none of them saw the man fall overboard.

The deceased was a young man, well grown, and apparently about 20 years of age, and hailed from Fayetteville.—He had been running on the boat only about two weeks, and his comrades could give no account of his parents, and only knew him as Rufus.

The Statesville Intelligencer has a cotton stalk with three hundred bolls, squares and blossoms. The Charlotte Observer, with its little stalk of only one hundred and forty bolls, will have to come down.

Some ten or twelve prisoners were released from the Madison county jail by unknown parties on last Monday night. A horse thief was among the number, and it is supposed that his accomplice did the work.

The Charlotte Observer learns that on Thursday last Revenue officers W. M. Walker and Robt. Howell seized two illicit distilleries in Gaston county, about one mile on this side of Dallas. One of the distilleries was brought to Charlotte and the other destroyed where it was found.

We are informed by a gentleman who reached the city yesterday morning by the Western train, that an Irish pedlar, named Connach, was knocked down and robbed of his money and goods, when on the Harnett county line, on Thursday last. He says the man is very seriously injured, so much so that he is unable to give any details of the outrage.—Raleigh Sentinel, 21*st*.

The annual budget of the Church of England, just published, shows the present membership of the Church to be about 12,000,000, and the average annual receipts over $50,000,000. The two archbishops, twenty-six bishops, and seventy archdeacons receive a salary aggregating $692,770.

The Southern Methodist Episcopal Church reports 441 Sunday-schools in the State of South Carolina, comprising 18,000 scholars.

STATE ITEMS.

They have droves of mules in Statesville.

Corn is sixty-five cents per bushel in New-Berne.

Two banks are shortly to be established at Wilson.

The ladies of the Christian Church at Asheville are going to have tableaux.

The Fayetteville Eagle commences the second volume of its semi-weekly.

Old Jack Frost made his appearance in the Asheville section the other day.

Effort Battle, colored, shipped the first bale of new cotton from Battleboro to Norfolk.

The caterpillar has made its appearance in the Henderson section. So says the Tribune.

Charlotte boasts of a cotton stalk with one hundred and forty bolls on it and is happy.

A stock company is to be organized in Charlotte and a cotton factory built. Good for Charlotte.

Engineers are surveying the route for the proposed railroad between Asheville and Spartanburg.

T. J. Presson raised the first bale of new cotton in Lenoir county. It was purchased by Mr. A. Nicol, of Kinston, at sixteen cents.

The farmers in the Battleboro section have commenced cotton picking in good earnest. The rain has damaged the crop somewhat.

Greene county votes on the first Thursday in next month upon the question of subscribing to the New York, Norfolk and Charleston Railroad.

And the Sentinel man has seen the mermaid. Major Tucker has a five thousand dollar one! Wonder if it was captured in the Trent.

A Call for a Medical Convention.

Owing to the increasing demoralization among regular members of our profession, and to the great number of charlatans and medical humbugs who infest our portion of the State, we, the undersigned, having the good of our noble calling at heart, and actuated by a sincere desire to protect the public from imposition, issue this Circular, and make this appeal to you, and to each and every member of our profession in good standing in Eastern North Carolina.

First: There is a growing tendency among the laity not to hold us in as high estimation as formerly, and this is attributable in a great measure to the increasing number of medical Cheap Johns who choose to style themselves Doctor, and dispense drugs to the ignorant and misguided of the community, and the laity who know no better, and have no means of knowing any better, are apt, as they are beginning now to do, to regard all men who are known as physicians as on the same level.

Secondly: We constantly hear good and honest men of the profession in every quarter complain of the unethical and ungentlemanly conduct of some neighboring physician. Physicians should be as a band of brothers in the pursuit of their noble calling; and not like a set of political tricksters who expect to advance their own interest by maligning and backbiting a rival. The only way to bring about a more kindly and brotherly feeling among the members of the profession, and stimulate a noble emulation is by the organization of Medical Societies. Let us meet as a band of brothers to discuss various medical topics, and adopt means for the elevation of our profession.

We appeal to you as one who has the welfare of our calling at heart to meet with us in Goldsboro and aid us in the organization of an Eastern Medical Association. The Association to be auxiliary to the "State Medical Society."

We hope, Doctor, you will give this your attention, and will consider the great need of such an organization, and the great good it will accomplish. Enough already have pledged themselves to make this quite a respectable meeting. But this is not all that is wanted. The presence of each respectable member of the profession in Eastern North Carolina is earnestly requested. Let this be a grand move. A general uprising and stepping forward to the front of all the good, the noble and true.

The time of meeting will be duly announced in the papers. The intention now is to call the meeting in October, or as early as possible.

The Wilmington & Weldon and the Atlantic & N. C. Railroads have generously offered to pass physicians going to the Convention for one fare.

Complaint comes from the mission field in Syria that American travelers in that region do not observe the Sabbath in their eagerness for sight-seeing, the effect of this on native Christians being far from salutary. Clergyman are found among Sunday traveling parties, one of whom is stated to have said he could "meditate on horseback as well as in a dirty Arab village." He was told in reply that a Syrian convert, upon seeing him, would also meditate.
